

AN Eastern journal declines to publish the details of the BECHER-TILTON scandal on the ground that it is not a religious paper.

CROFT's Western World for September says: "The Los Angeles Herald, one of the largest and best conducted weekly papers in the State, has come to hand. It contains a great amount of valuable State news."

THE Oregon Legislature is in session. Of the parties—Independents, Democrats and Republicans—no one has a majority, and either one holds a balance of power. Party feeling runs high, and some warm times are anticipated.

THE Democrats of Nevada are strongly inclined to renominate Governor BRADLEY. The old man has made a good Governor, and if a candidate for re-election he will be hard to beat.

THE Express has reached the conclusion that our Common Council might be surpassed in intelligence by a deputation from the State Insane Asylum. It is the common habit of insanity to imagine everybody else insane. The Express seems to have it bad.

THE Visalia Delta has an article on "self" and spins it out a column long. Of course it is very thin. When an editor takes himself for a text he should remember that he has subject-matter but for a paragraph, unless, indeed, he lives in Los Angeles.

"VERDE," the Los Angeles correspondent of the San Diego Union, in a late letter says of the popular candidate for Mayor: "MR. BEAUDRY is one of our most enterprising citizens, and has done more probably than any one citizen to push the city forward, and would doubtless make an excellent Mayor."

A SAN FRANCISCO Grand Jury concluded that for waylaying a man and shooting at him in a crowded street, a newspaper publisher committed no offense against the law or the public safety. DE YOUNG should be permitted to practice on the members of that Grand Jury until he succeeded in lodging a ball in the body of each one.

OUR people are in the habit of swearing at the Common Council for not improving the streets. We have no doubt the Council has many sins to answer for, but that body has much to contend against. An idea of how much, may be obtained from reading a remonstrance, together with the names of its signers, which we publish in another column. The Council proposed to grade Commercial street, and forthwith every property-holder on that street, except one or two, sign a protest against the improvement. They believe the work "entirely unnecessary for the present."

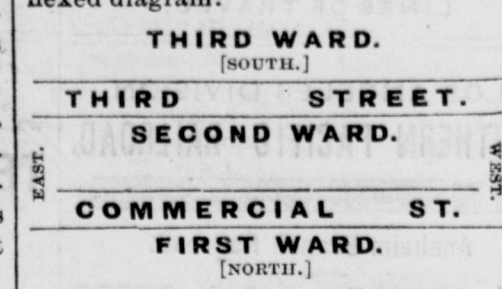

GEORGE C. GORHAM wants to be Governor of California and he would like to take the gubernatorial chair immediately after its vacation by Lieutenant Governor PACHECO who will become Governor after the fourth of March next in consequence of Governor BOOTH assuming his seat in the United States Senate. GEORGE is a good fellow socially and as good a fellow politically as thousands who denounce him corrupt. We might have a less honest man for Governor and we could not have a more genial gentleman. We like GEORGE. He was a good fellow in a minor's cabin; he is a good fellow as Secretary of the United States Senate, and he would be a good fellow as Governor of our State.

The German School.

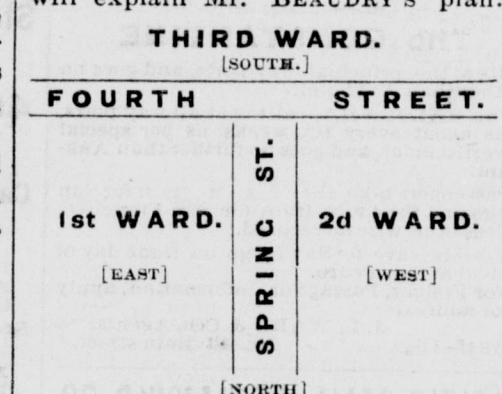

The German school property on Main street is so circumscribed that it is no longer equal to the demands upon it. This property—lot and buildings—has all been donated, and it has been kept in repair and the school maintained by the society, each member of which pays fifty cents per month for that purpose. But the number of pupils has increased until the building is no longer adequate and, as the site is not desirable for a school, the society proposes to sell the property and use the proceeds of the sale in the erection of a larger building in a more convenient locality. At its meeting on Thursday the Council donated the society a lot on the corner of Temple street and Cemetery Avenue for school purposes, and as soon as the Mayor signs the resolution, which we presume he will—probably has already—and the deed is made out, the Trustees will proceed to grade the street and erect on the lot a fine two-story school building. The grounds will be tastefully set out in trees and shrubbery immediately, and as soon as the school opens it will be supplied with all the implements of gymnastic exercises. The Trustees propose to divide the pupils into two classes and employ a German and an English teacher, thus teaching both languages in the school. This school has no connection with the public schools of the city; it is maintained by the private subscriptions of citizens who, while paying their pro rata of the school tax, prefer to send their children to a private school. On the lot donated by the Council the Trustees will erect a building on which will be taught hundreds of children free of all expense to the city.

How the City is Divided.

At its meeting on Thursday the Council re-divided the city, and did it in such a way as to be unsatisfactory to the residents generally. The city is now divided into three slices, running east and west. An idea of the Wards may be obtained from the annexed diagram:

The line dividing the First and Second Wards strikes Downey Block at the intersection of Commercial and Main streets, and goes through the block by means of an imaginary passage to Sand street, thence to the western limits of the city. A portion of the inhabitants of Downey block will never know in which Ward they reside. All the cemeteries, all the swamp land and all of "Sonora," are in the First Ward. Nearly the entire native California vote of the city is in this Ward. The division is a bad one for several reasons. Each Ward elects an equal number of Councilmen, and this division deprives the Third Ward which is growing more rapidly than any other portion of the city, of a fair representation. The disproportion of the Wards is marked now and will grow still greater in a very short time. The plan of throwing all the Mexican vote into one Ward is not calculated to advance the best interests of the entire city. The Spanish-American and the American population are governed by the same laws and ordinances, and it should be the purpose of those who district the city to place in proportionate ratio the two classes in each Ward, rather than to colonize them in Wards by themselves and thereby aid in fostering and maintaining sectional feeling. In our opinion the plan of dividing the city into Wards submitted by Mr. BEAUDRY would have been much more satisfactory had it been adopted. He divided the city into three Wards by commencing at a point in the center of the intersection of Spring and Fourth streets and running northerly through Spring to its intersection with Main street, thence through Main street to its junction with Alameda street, thence northerly to the city limits. The area East of this line to the city limits to constitute the First Ward; that West to the city limits to constitute the Second Ward; and all South of the center of Fourth street extending East and West to the city limits to comprise the Third Ward. The following diagram will explain Mr. BEAUDRY's plan:

It will be seen at a glance that had Mr. BEAUDRY's suggestion been adopted the city would have been more equally divided both in territory, population and intelligence and it is to be regretted that the Council could not be induced to do a piece of work now which will have to be done sooner or later.

A PARTY of gentlemen just arrived from Panamint say they do not believe the squad of Chinamen sent out by the STEWART party will be permitted to commence work. There are several hundred white men in the district, and up to this time not a single Chinaman has made his appearance there. We trust no unlawful act will transpire. Violence and persecution are the poorest possible remedies to apply in such cases.

HIGH PRICE OF LAND.

Some Observations and Remarks Made by one who Travels with His Eyes Open.

EDITOR HERALD: The fame of Los Angeles county as a health resort and semi-tropical fruit producing country, has spread far and wide. The impression created abroad is favorable to the general growth and prosperity of our country. But an unfavorable impression is being created against us by the numerous seekers of land for homes who have gone away to buy somewhere else. There is a general dissatisfaction expressed by visitors in regard to the high price of lands in this country. I know of parties who have lands upon which not a particle of water can be had without sinking wells, who are asking exorbitant prices. There are others who bought land a year ago for a mere trifle, who are now asking an advance of three hundred per cent. There can be no doubt but that this inflation of land prices—this sort of mania for getting all that can be obtained from the stranger—is a suicidal policy. It has a tendency to create the impression that our land-owners are land-sharks and money-grabbers. The result is that multitudes of strangers in search of homes are driven away to seek homes in other parts of the State, where the price of land is within the reach of their means. I know of many who have recently come here with money in their pockets for the purpose of purchasing homes, but in consequence of what they considered exorbitant prices went to the adjoining county and bought lands at less than one-half of the price that they were asked here for similar land. I fear that our land-owners are short-sighted in not selling at lower figures; for by selling their land to the stranger and keeping him here, the money is put into circulation, our taxes will be lessened, and our resources developed. The policy now pursued will not only drive purchasers with their money away, but will augment the population of other counties and enrich their people. ODOACER.

Barney Carter will accompany the party, and look after the stations along the road. The road will be immediately repaired and put in first-class order, some three hundred Chinamen having been employed for that purpose. Some of the freight has already started from Spadra, and as fast as teams can be procured they will be put to work.

Some time ago Capt. Goodall and Dr. O'Farrell, both of Goodall, Nelson & Perkins' Steamship line, spent a few days admiring the beauties of Los Angeles. One Sunday morning the Dr. seated himself on a boot-black stand for the purpose of having his calf-skins polished. The work was well and speedily done and the Dr. handed the "intelligent contraband" two bits, which he slipped into the seat pocket of his pants. After a while the Dr. enquired, kind of careless like about his change. "Nuthin' cummin' sah; nuthin' cummin' sah." "It's Sunday, sah, and I charge one bit for shinin' ob your boots, and one bit for desecration of Lod's day, sah." Dr. O'Farrell saw the point but never saw his change.

More Spiritism.

EDITOR HERALD: As there is so much said about Spiritism as to whether it be true or not, a few words may not be out of place. All believers in the Bible know or should know that it is no new thing, for did not King Saul see and converse with the old Prophet Samuel after he had been dead for some time? No investigation is needed to prove the truth of Spiritism. It stands there a stubborn fact. What we need to investigate is by what power do they come. Samuel who was brought back by the power of Witchcraft, which power is wrought by the Devil, and modern Spiritualism is wrought by no other power. And what revelation do the spirits make when they appear, of the great hereafter? Simply none at all; and why? The Devil's power is limited; he cannot reveal the future, but his power is not confined to this phase of Spiritualism; greater things yet will be allowed to do, so that all those who reject the truth may believe a lie. Instead of these shaking the faith in the believers of the Bible, it confirms their faith in the great old book, for all these things we are told shall come to pass in the latter days; but woe unto them who are deceived thereby.

The Lyceum.

The attendance at the Lyceum last night was large, and altogether, the interest elicited was very flattering for the new organization. The literary exercises commenced with an essay read by Mr. Littlefield on "The Quality of Forgiveness." The essay was well written and abounded with fine thoughts.

Mr. Binford recited a poem entitled "The Gambler's Wife." Though not claiming to be a professional, Mr. Binford acquitted himself with considerable credit, bringing out the fine feeling embodied in the piece. Master Goodrich read an essay on "Sleep," which elicited applause.

Mr. Hawley gave an essay, entitled "Carriage Journalism," in which he dealt some severe blows to scribblers who are constantly complaining of the extravagance of the age.

This was followed by the reading by Mr. Saxon of a selection from King Henry VIII, comprising the scene between Cardinal Wolsey and Cromwell. The effort was very fine. Mr. Saxon has remarkable elocutionary abilities, and we have never before heard them brought out with much better effect.

The company were then regaled by some fine instrumental music by Prof. Arevalo and Messrs. Meyer and Corneil. The musicians were heartily applauded and called upon for a second piece before the audience was satisfied.

Following this came the reading of the Los Angeles Independent, Vol. 1 No. 1, the society paper, by Miss Yda Addis, the editor. The paper was quite lengthy and contained, besides the ordinary literary chaff which belongs to such a production, some really worthy essays and verses. We are permitted to clip from our "contemporary" the following:

THE ROSE.

BY G.

'Twas morn; I passed a noble bush--
A lovely bud was growing,
And gently to the rising sun
Its opening petals throwing.

I came at noon--the rose was blown--
In beauty wild was glowing,
And softly on the breeze
Its heavenly sweets bestowing.

I came at night--the flower was dead,
And on the ground was lying;
And slowly back to earth
Its beauties were decaying.

I had a friend--a dear young friend--
Fair as the rose's bloom;
But the cold night came on--
She slumbered in the tomb.

A somewhat livelier production was produced in the following entitled--

NOT MARRIED YET.

BY ZOE ZELLA.

I'm single yet--I'm single yet!
And years have flown since I "came out";
In vain I sigh--in vain I fret;
Ye gods! what are the men about?

I vow I'm twenty--Oh, ye powers!
A spinster's lot is hard to bear--
On earth alone to pass my time,
And afterward lead apes--down there!

No offer yet--no offer yet!
I'm puzzled quite to make it out;
For every leech my heart I set,
What, what, what are the men about?

They don't propose--they won't propose--
For fear, perhaps, I'd not say "yes";
Just let them try--for heaven knows
I'm tired of single blessedness!

Not married yet--not married yet!
The deuce is in the men, I fear!
I'm like a something to be let--
And to be let alone, that's clear.

They say she's pretty--but no chink;
And love without it runs in debt;
It agitates my nerves to think
That I have had no offer yet!

There are other portions of the Independent which are worthy of publication, but want of space forbids further extracts. Altogether the occasion proved a grand success for the Lyceum, and we trust will be a place it upon a solid basis from which it will grow into one of the permanent institutions of our city. Next Friday evening another meeting will occur when there will be a debate and some entertaining music. All are invited.

Wilmington Items.

From the Enterprise of Sept. 17.

Wilmington has a population of about 600. Among the four hundred nationalities are represented, besides a majority of the States and Territories.

A few days ago we pulled a luscious peach from a tree on the grounds of Timothy Roman. It was larger than our fist, and had a flavor equal to the best Eastern peach. The tree was two years old from the seed.

Wilmington has one of the best warehouses on this coast, which was built by the Government with but little care for expense. It is immense in its storage capacity, and being connected with the new wharf, when the dredging is completed and steamers come up to this point, it will be of great value in a short time. At present it is partly occupied with a large quantity of grain both in sack and in bulk.

Within the past few days Wilson College has had an accession of four new students from abroad. The school is steadily increasing.

Thos. B. Hays went out with a full force last Monday morning to begin work on the wagon road from this place to Anaheim. The work will be put through vigorously. We congratulate our neighbors upon their bright prospects. They will soon have a railroad as well as a pleasant drive to the future great shipping point of Southern California.

Nevada Items.

The total number of registered voters in Gold Hill, up to date, is 1,618.

The assessment roll for Gold Hill and that portion of the county is completed, and shows a total value of $1,607,880; being an increase over last year of $91,760.

The new building of the Yellow Jacket hoisting-works is up and inclosed. The roof will soon be put on and it will extend over the old as well as the new building.

The new air-chimney at the Consolidated Virginia mine is completed, and works to a charm. All the hot steam coming from the mine at the mouth of the shaft before it was built, now passes through it.

The Richmond furnaces were closed down Saturday morning, and will remain so for the next six or eight days. The stoppage was caused by some of the machinery getting out of repair, which necessitates extensive repairs.

The son of Jas. H. Grady, the man who was run over by the Virginia and Truckee Railroad on last Friday and instantly killed, is dissatisfied with the verdict of the Coroner's jury, and talks of bringing a suit for damages against the company.

The material for the new paper at St. Helena arrived Saturday night. DeWitt Lawrence will be the publisher.
